Monday 04 July 2022

Today Leigh French came along to tell us about the services and products Telecare have to offer. He bought along an alarmed pill dispenser; this will continue to emit an alarm until you take that set of pills.

He suggested having two of these and asking your chemist if they will hold onto and fill the dispenser with your medication then deliver it to you whilst collecting the empty one to refill. They also have a fall alarm which you can wear round neck or wrist, these are waterproof so no need to take them of in the shower, where many falls occur. This detects when you suddenly drop low and is connected to a call centre, they will call you immediately and dispatch St Johns Ambulance to attend if necessary. They also have an alarm to keep in your home which can be moved from room to room wherever you spend most time as required, once plugged back in the programmed setting will be intact. A Key box can be supplied, burglar proof, so, if necessary, family, ambulance, fire brigade can enter your home to assist you.

Leigh passed around the items and explained how they work, he or someone from his team would come to your home to get you set up and he advised that some people qualify for the free package however there are some cases where there may be a small charge of £3 or £5 per week, depending on individual needs and benefits received.

Leigh briefly touch ed on the Handyman Service

Wolverhampton Homes have and a Homes Adaptation grant for equipment / alterations to your home. This is not means tested, the requirement is that you are 65 + or if under 65 you would need to be on qualifying benefits. Leigh has provided the links below for more information on the services he spoke about.

Pre-Paid Funeral Plan

You may recall I mentioned companies needed to be regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) to continue selling Pre-Paid Funeral plans.

The list is far to long for me to publish here. However, after checking the FCA register I noted Rest Assured had withdrawn their application to be authorised by the FCA. So,

I rang Rest Assured to ask what this meant to people with Funeral Plans with them.

I spoke to a very helpful girl who explained that everyone's money is held in a trust and as Rest Assured are a relative newcomer to funeral plans and with the numerous requirements requested by the FCA, they felt it was in their client's best interest to transfer the plans to a larger regulated company. They are still in talks until the 29 July to decide who to move the plans to. Each funeral plan holder will be written to after this date, probably in August to explain why the change and who your new provider will be.

I asked for assurance at least 6 times that no-one would lose money or plan and was given the direct answer 'No, all the money is held in a trust none of our clients will lose out on anything'. I hope this helps you understand what is going on. However, should you decide to ring and ask for yourself, ring one of the numbers on your Plan Card, choose option No 2 and have your plan reference number at hand, this should also be on your card.

Age Concern

Age concern have moved, they are now situated their current address is The Workspace, All Saints Road, Wolverhampton, WV2 1EL.

Tel; 01902 572050.

They offer an information telephone service only, there is no longer a face-to-face service. They have a handyman service and are looking at providing a home help service.
